NRI Selected No.1 Best For-Profit Think Tank in the “Global Go To Think Tank Index Report”

Tokyo, April 2, 2020

Nomura Research Institute, Ltd. (NRI) today is proud to announce it has been selected as the No. 1 think tank in the “Best For-Profit Think Tank” category by University of Pennsylvania’s Think Tanks and Civil Societies Program (TTCSP), part of the Joseph H. Lauder Institute of Management and International Studies (“Lauder Institute”) of the Wharton School of Business.

2019 Global Go To Think Tank Index Report (https://repository.upenn.edu/think_tanks/17/)

The report does not consider profit, but rather focuses on the core functions and nature of think tanks themselves. The ranking surveys individuals and organizations in considering nominees. Some main criteria are impact to society, quality of management leadership, employee quality, number of publications, number of policy proposals and ideas that contribute to society.

About TTCSP (<https://www.gotothinktank.com/>)

Known as “the think tank’s think tank”, TTCSP conducts research on the role policy institutes play in governments and in civil societies around the world with the mission to bridge the gap between knowledge and policy globally. Since its inception in 1989, the TTCSP has focused on collecting data and conducting research on think tank trends and the role think tanks play as civil society actors in the policymaking process.
